Gordon Quantz seeking PC vote

By Nicole Smith

One of Didsbury's town councillors will be throwing his hat into the ring as a PC candidate for the Olds-Didsbury-Three Hills constituency.

Gordon Quantz, a member of town council for the last year and a half, has decided to try his hand at provincial politics.

"This is a grassroots democracy," Quantz said.

"Every so often the party should have the grassroots have their say."

Last Friday afternoon, Quantz was busy collecting his 10 signatures in order to submit his nomination form. Ray Lea was the first to sign up and support Quantz.

Quantz says that he is "a man of vision and a man of action." and "without a vision the people perish."

In addition to being on town council, Quantz is involved with various committees and authorities in the community, including the Didsbury and District Fire Authority and the Didsbury and District Health Services Advisory Council.

Quantz will be going up against current MLA Richard Marz for the PC vote.

The nomination meeting will take place on March 7 at the Three Hills Community Centre from 4-9 p.m., with advanced polls being held March 4 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

RCMP searching for Didsbury street sign vandalist

By Nicole Smith

Didsbury RCMP are seeking public assistance in locating the people responsible for running down a number of street signs around town.

Constable Steve Woolnough, of the local RCMP detachment, says that nine traffic signs were mowed down in the early morning hours of Feb. 5, all located in the Southridge area or around the intersection of 23 St. and 15 Ave.

Woolnough says that incidents such as this have been occurring around town since last summer.

Woolnough is not only concerned about the cost that these incidents have generated for the Town of Didsbury, who has to replace the signs, but also for motorists and pedestrians, who might not know there was a traffic sign there.

"These incidents could cause traffic accidents the next morning," said Woolnough.

The Town of Didsbury puts up temporary signs immediately after they find out about the incidents, but there is a time period where there are no signs.

Woolnough is asking that if the public has any knowledge of who may be causing this vandalism, to call the RCMP at 335-3382.

"Anyone seeing a vehicle with suspicious front end damage may call us," Woolnough said.

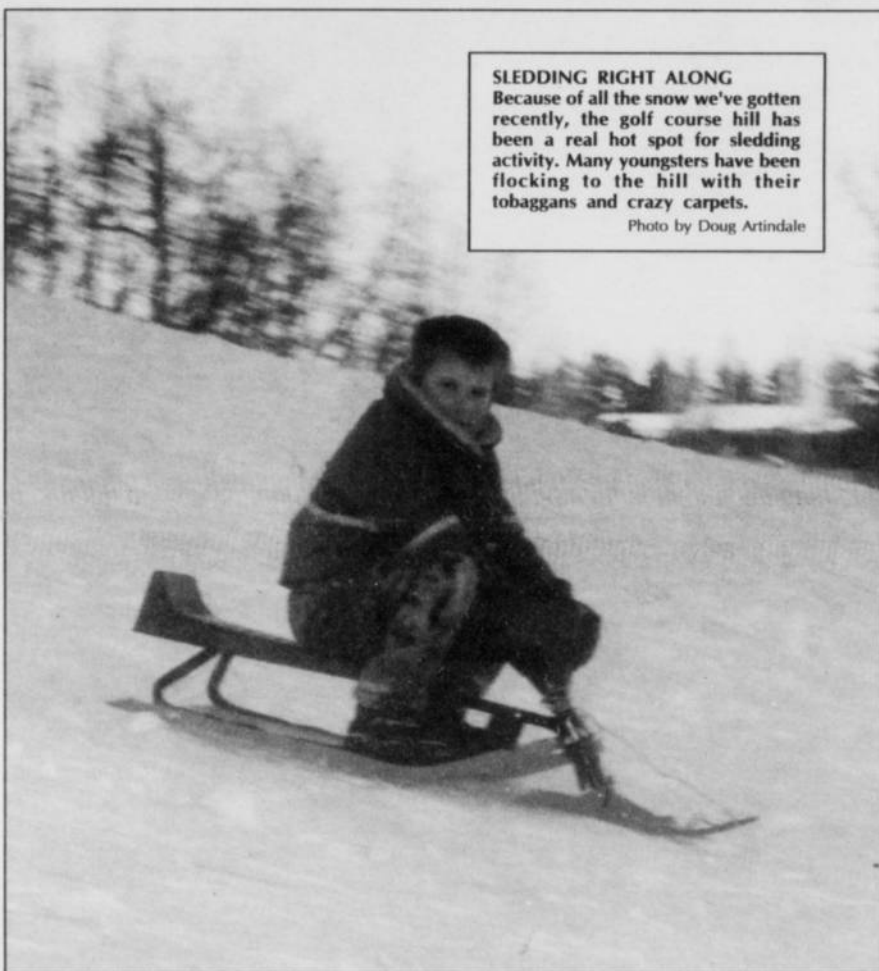

He expects that the vehicle responsible for running down the signs has some damage on the front bumper or paint on it from the signs.

RCMP are also requesting assistance for information on a tree that was smashed to the ground at the Didsbury High School on the same night.

If you have information, you can call the local detachment or Crimestoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

Callers are eligible for cash rewards of up to $2,000 for information leading to the arrest of parties responsible.

Because of all the snow we've gotten recently, the golf course hill has been a real hot spot for sledding activity. Many youngsters have been flocking to the hill with their tobaggans and crazy carpets.

Get ready Alberta

Alberta has a reputation as a prosperous province. That's a reputation built on hard work, determination and a willingness to take risks to create a better life for ourselves, our families and our communities. We've become an economic power in this country by blending these characteristics with the rich resources discovered in Alberta over the last century.

Now, it's a new century. Hard work and determination are still important in building the prosperity of the province.

But the world around us is changing.

The resources that create prosperity now are creativity and innovation.

Those resources are not fixed in time and space - they exist around the world, and have led to the creation of a knowledge-based, global economy.

If we want to continue to enjoy prosperity, we must compete in that economy.

Building our global competitiveness is the objective of the new economic strategy announced by Economic Development Minister Jon Havelock on February 8, Get Ready Alberta: Strengthening the Alberta Advantage.

Get Ready Alberta is one of the government's bold plans for the new century referred to by Premier Ralph Klein in his address to Albertans on January 31.

It builds on our existing strengths, and, by encouraging innovation, learning, and global competitiveness and making Alberta the best place to live, work and visit, charts a course for action over the next six years.

The strategy provides vision for Alberta in 2005:

- Alberta is a world leader in innovation, research, development and commercialization of new ideas.

- All Albertans have the opportunities they need to learn, adapt and develop new knowledge and new ideas.

- Alberta is internationally recognized as a good place to invest and do business. Alberta business compete and succeed in a global marketplace.

- Albertans enjoy an unmatched quality of life in a province that's recognized as the best place to live, work and visit.

We'll create 295,000 new jobs in Alberta by 2005, and increase of 20 percent, including 35,000 new jobs in the information and communications technology sector.

More Albertans will complete high school and enrol in post-secondary institutions.

More young Albertans will study a second language.

A provincial technology network will be available to connect every home, business, classroom, library and municipality via the internet. Investment in research and development by government and industry will rise to the $2 billion level.

Albertans and Alberta companies will use new technologies to improve their business, sell the products and services, develop new ideas, and build their knowledge and skills.

Innovation and technology will help increase value-added exports from $15.4 billion to $26 billion annually - in both our resource-based industries and new knowledge-based industries such as biotechnology and information and communications technology.

And it will all happen in an Alberta that continues to pay down the provincial debt, maintain low taxes, preserve its famous natural environment, and provide a quality health care system.

Man pleads guilty to thefts

Johnathan Milligan, 22, pled guilty of two accounts of theft under $5000.

Between Sept. 1 and Sept. 12, 1999, Milligan stole a Polaris ATV and a Kawasaki motorcycle.

Milligan then drove the vehicles causing about $3200 worth of damage to them.

The Hon. Judge Davie ordered Milligan to pay restitution in the amount of $1608 to the victim as well as pay a $350 fine for each theft count.

Milligan was also handed a one year of probation.

Man pleads guilty to assault

A 19-year-old man charged with robbery following an incident in Sundre last summer has pleaded guilty to a lesser charge.

Darcy Sumyk appeared in Didsbury provincial court to plead guilty to a charge of assault.

On Aug. 10, 1999, Sumyk came out of a building to find the window on his car had been broken.

Upset, he got in the car and drove around Sundre looking for the person responsible. A short time later, he came upon two men walking on the street.

Theft occurs at Tanas Concrete

By Nicole Smith

Tanas Concrete was the location of a theft that occurred sometime between Feb. 12 and 13.

An air compressor, belonging to a concrete finishing company out of Penhold, was stolen of the Tanas Concrete property.

Apparently, the compressor was left on the lot over the weekend and the suspect vehicle backed up to it, hooked it up and just drove away with it.

The compressor is an older Ingersol-Rand model that is blue in colour with black mud flaps on it.

Constable Steve Woolnough of the Didsbury RCMP detachment says that the compressor was stolen sometime between Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

It was reported stolen on Feb. 14.

Woolnough says that the RCMP are looking for any witnesses to this incident.

Woolnough is unsure if this incident is related to a theft that occurred at the Mountain View County shop last month.

"It's unknown if these incidents are related," he said.

Woolnough says that all of the incidents are still being investigated.

Anyone with information relating to the most recent theft at Tanas Concrete is encouraged to call the RCMP at 335-3382.

Mayor's Prayer Breakfast in the works again

By Nicole Smith

The Mayor's Prayer Breakfast Committee has been formed and are working hard on preparing this annual event.

Neither the date nor a keynote speaker has been chosen for the event as of yet.

Roy Brassard, a member of the committee, says that the breakfast is a chance to see the mayor on a different level.

"It's as much a leadership breakfast as anything," he said. "The Bible tells us to pray for leaders, but we never think of political and community leaders in the same sense. We never see the side of them that's dependent on a higher power."

Brassard says that our community leaders need to be seen in a different light.

"It's necessary that we recognize that these people have a grounding the same as us," he said.

"This will be a time out for us, as community members, to recognize and pray for community leaders who are faced with all of the daily demands as us."

Brassard says that the committee is rather busy trying to decide on a keynote speaker who is a community leader.

More information on the upcoming Didsbury Mayor's Prayer Breakfast will be given at a later date.

2000 Trade Show will be interesting and informative

By Nicole Smith

This year's trade show is gearing up and organizers hope that it will be the best one yet.

Dave Mohr, the treasurer for the Trade Show Committee, says that all the people are in place to organize this year's show, which will take place on April 1 and 2 at the Didsbury Memorial Complex.

Mohr says that the group has held two meetings so far. Joining Mohr on the committee are Mickey Lennox, Bobbi and Dale Luft, Claude Baril, Evan Parliament, Judi Newsome and John Grimmon.

Mohr says that Didsburyans can expect to see many of their old trade show favourites in attendance again this year, including the Fiddler's Jamboree, the Q-91 Talent Show and an art show.

Other features at the trade show include a pancake breakfast hosted by the Zion Evangelical Missionary Church Youth Group, the Twinkle Twinkle Little Star children's talent showcase, an Exhibitor's Supper put on by local scouting groups, as well as, non-stop entertainment on the stage.

Mohr says that as far as the non-stop entertainment goes, the committee is looking for local musicians, dance groups and singers to entertain the crowds. If anyone is interested in participating, they can call the Trade Show Office at 335-3265.

Mohr says that the committee is also hoping to introduce some new features at this year's show.

"We're working on some new things," he said. "Things mainly for the kids, like a mini-golf course maybe."

Mohr also says that on Sunday, April 2, the Didsbury Aquatic Centre will be hosting a free swim and slide.

In addition to all these events, you can still expect to find many exhibitors showing their wares.

Mohr says that about one-quarter of the 115 booths have already been sold and doesn't expect that it will be too long before they sell out.

Usually, about three-quarters of the booths at the Trade Show are picked up by local businesses and service clubs and the remaining quarter usually go to businesses from outside Didsbury that have an interest in the area.

The committee will also be offering concessions and a food cart to the patrons, at a nominal fee.

So, the $2 admission charge at the door will pay patrons' way into a lot of entertainment and interesting displays, not to mention the many door prizes, contests and booth draws that will be taking place.

Mohr encourages Didsburyans to mark April 1 and 2 on their calendars and head down to the annual Trade Show.

"Come out and be informed, be entertained and learn about local businesses and local events," he said.

If you require more information about the upcoming Trade Show or you wish to book at booth, you can call the Trade Show Office at 335-3265.

Plenty on agenda at County open house at Lone Pine Hall

by Leah Payne

Future growth of the county and the new road building policy were on the agenda of Mountain View County's open house Feb. 16.

Approximately 35 people showed up at the Lonepine Hall to express their concerns over county matters to Deputy Reeve Ben Penner, Councillors Dave Derksen and Sheila Lockrem as well as John Rusling and Harold Johnsrude.

"The county doesn't have a lot of land for industrial development," John Rusling, Mountain View County Planning Development Officer told the group during a quick presentation.

Rusling also told the crowd that a consultant had been hired out of Calgary to review the area and recommend areas of industrial parks.

One resident expressed his concerns about the possible industrial parks taking up farm land.

"That is definitely something that needs to be considered," Rusling said. "But the urban municipalities need enough room to grow into. We have to plan for 25 to 35 years of growth."

Many concerns were raised over the proposed road building policy. Most residents expressed some form of disapproval over the idea that farmers and contractors would have to pay for the building or extensions of roads to their property.

"Over the years we've paid taxes to build roads. I think that it is up to the county to build it," one resident said.

"I just read that the county spent $800,000 on equipment. So if I build a house and need a road I have to pay to use the equipment my taxes paid for?" Another voiced.

"We won't arrive at a situation that will please everybody in Didsbury.

"We have four choices, to just fix what needs to be fixed, renovate the building with no expansion, renovate the building or just build a whole new building," County Commissioner Harold Johnsrude told the crowd.

Johnsrude also told the crowd that the county was leaning towards renovating with an addition or just building a whole new building.

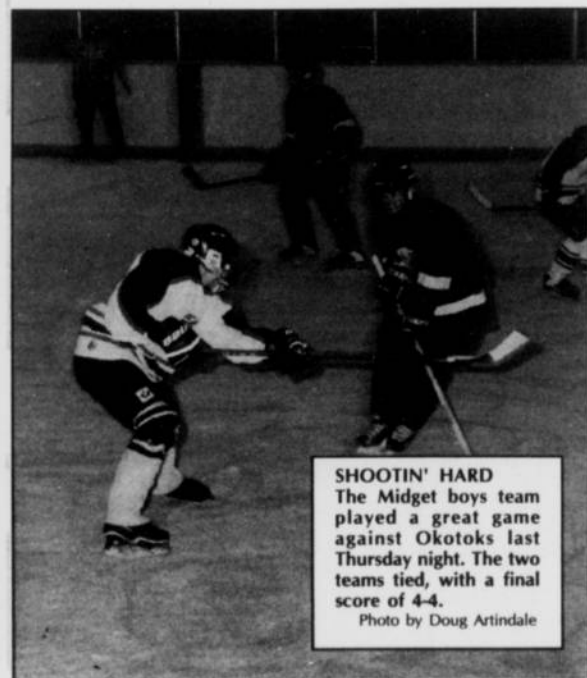

Concerns of those attending the meeting were what would happen to the old building if the county does decide to build new, where would the county go while the renovations were being performed, and foremost where was the money going to come from to build the building.

Financing for the project would come from major improvements and tax rate stabilization both which have a million dollars in reserve, Johnsrude explained.

The county also explained that they were working towards a zero per cent increase and a possible decrease in county taxes.

Penner closed the meeting on a positive note, praising the county's residents for their part of saving the Didsbury hospital.

"It looks as though we have won for the time being. It was your victory. You did a lot of the work," he said.

Big baby

Nicole
SMITH

Have you ever seen those commercials on television for some brand of decongestant with the big baby? "Oh, look at the big baby."

Well, that's me this week. I'm the big baby.

After months and months of escaping that nasty flu that's been going around, it finally caught up with me.

I guess that the flu wasn't enough of a punishment for me, because I also got a nice cold to go along with it.

Whenever I get sick, I immediately seek out sympathy. This usually means a call to my mother and my grandmother. Both of them can always be counted on to feel sorry for me in my time of illness.

They tell me that they wish they were here to take care of me, which usually makes me feel one of two ways: better or homesick.

It's funny that I still need to be mothered during any illness that I succumb to. All I want is someone to cover me in blankets, make me some hot chocolate and just take care of me. Nothing beats chicken noodle soup when you're not feeling well, especially if it's been made by someone else.

On the subject of soup, I'm getting a little tired of the whole liquid diet I've been on since becoming so deathly ill. Soup, tea, water and juice. It gets a little tiresome. Up and down. Up and down. If I wasn't feeling that well before, all these trips to the bathroom will definitely do it.

I hate being sick.

It just doesn't look good on me. I've never been able to wear the colour red, so needless to say, my nose and eyes are not doing anything for my complexion. If sick were the colour blue, I'd wear it all the time.

Thanks for this opportunity to whine. Maybe I'm just looking for someone to take over my mother's position on a more local level. Any volunteers?

Wonderings of the heart

"Miracle on the Highway"

By Margaret Fradley

When our daughter graduated from High School she moved to the city, found a job, and small apartment. Her heart's desire was to own a mini austen car and she carefully saved enough money to purchase a second hand "mini austen."

The following weekend she drove home to proudly show us her heart's desire. Preparing to return home, she packed her little car full of her belongings and started out in a torrential downpour. When she left I felt a great need to pray for her safety; then thought no more about it, until later in the afternoon when we received a call, she had been in an accident, totalled her car. The only part of her vehicle that had remained intact was the metal bar, separating the windshield from the driver window. She was able to crawl out escaping injury.

The first car to arrive on the scene was a man driving a brand new car. He stopped, helped her pack all her belongings, still in the pouring rain, into his car. He then notified police and a towing company to tow her car away then offered to drive her home over 1000 miles.

Once in the car the man asked my daughter, "Are you a Christian?" She said, "Yes." His response was, "I was sure you must be, because when I was having my quiet time this morning, the Lord told me to leave home two hours ahead of time because I would be needed on the highway," he continued to say, "As I drove over the hill and saw your car leave the road, turning over, I thought, well, I won't be needed here -- it's too late. When I saw you climb out of your car I knew I had seen a miracle."

Arriving at our daughter's house, she invited the man in for coffee. He looked at his watch and said, "Thank you anyway, but when I get back to where I was going, it will have been exactly 'two hours!!'"

A few days later I called my daughter, finding out she had no ill effects from the experience. Knowing how much that car had meant to her, I commented how sorry I was about her loss and she replied, "It's okay mom, I prayed about my car and the Lord told me He had allowed me to have the car because it was my heart's desire, but He wanted to be my heart's desire." And my daughter had peace about it.

This experience had a great impact on our lives.

OPINIONS EDITORIAL

Liberals destroy the institution of marriage

Myron
THOMPSON

The same-sex legislation introduced by the Liberal Government last week will essentially wipe out the institution of marriage.

Bill C-23, The Modernization of Benefits and Obligations Act, will amend 68 federal statutes affecting 20 departments and agencies. It will extend benefits to same-sex couples on the same basis as common-law opposite-sex couples.

By introducing this legislation, the Liberals are clearly trying to deflect attention away from Jane Stewart's mismanagement of $1 billion of taxpayers money in grants from her department.

Bill C-23 gives marriage like benefits while at the same time not recognizing or defining marriage in the legislation. This goes directly against the motion passed on June 8, 1999, sponsored by the Reform Party, and supported by all parties, to take necessary steps to preserve the definition of marriage, as the union of one man and one woman to the exclusion of all others.

This bill essentially makes private sexual activities he sole criteria for benefits eligibility. It also discriminates against other types of dependency relationships, such as elderly siblings living together, or a parent and adult child living together.

This legislation is the beginning of a slippery slope whereby the Liberals are allowing public policy and legislation to be driven by our courts. The Reform Party will continue to fight against this legislation in an effort to show the Liberals that the institution of marriage is sacred and can't be destroyed at their whim.

The environment - a taxing issue

By Mitchel Gray, Provincial Director, Alberta Division

We all agree that the environment is important - obviously. But we seem to be having a very difficult time coming to an agreement as to what should be done to protect it.

Should we leave it to industry, for example, to monitor its own carbon dioxide emissions? Should we impose an environmental tax on individuals or businesses? Should we offer up "incentives" to encourage people to modify their behaviour? And just who, exactly, is going to pay for any or all of these ideas? And don't be deceived - environmental policy changes will cost money.

With cost in mind, then, the province of Alberta recently unveiled the skeleton of an action plan to reduce greenhouse gases. At first blush it seems to be on the right track, offering up voluntary, technology-driven solutions to the problem of rising emission levels. That's certainly a more thoughtful approach than what seems to be Ottawa's favoured plan of attack - a carbon tax.

A carbon tax is probably the worst of all possible scenarios for dealing with gas emissions. Why? Well, first and foremost it wouldn't work. We know that because we already have a carbon tax - it's called the excise tax on gasoline. Emerging out of the fear of fuel shortages and price shocks in the early 1970s, the excise tax was supposed to reduce fuel consumption. Yeah, right. After 25 years of growing fuel taxes consumption has not declined one little bit. That's because the price of fuel is highly inelastic. In other words, people consume fuel in the same quantities regardless of the price simply because they need it. If taxes went up on lava lamps, pushing up the price, you might not buy one. After all, who really needs a lava lamp? But you do need fuel - to get to work, to put in your semi to haul goods, to power your factory etc. etc. Higher taxes are not a deterrent to fuel consumption.

Neither are they conducive to economic growth. A carbon tax would: reduce consumer spending, owing to a drop in disposable income, result in a decline in business investment, reflecting a reduction in investment by utilities; lower exports; increase unemployment; and quite possibly, lower total tax revenues as GDP goes into a free-fall. This is not just the opinion of a bunch of crusading anti-tax radicals - it's also the opinion given by the government's own economists.

So avoiding a carbon tax is a no-brainer. But are Alberta's proposals any better? Some of the ideas thrown out, like lowering provincial speed limits or introducing an annual target for government purchases of electrical power might not be that expensive. Other proposals, however, such as offering "financial incentives" for the purchase of fuel-efficient vehicles, or the building of "eco-efficient" industrial parks could get a little pricey.

The bottom line is that anything the provincial or federal governments do to rein in emissions is going to cost money. Fair enough. But that should not translate into an overall cost increase for consumers or taxpayers. If, for example, the cost of the province's plan amounts to the rumoured $30 million, Klein and company have an obligation to take that money out of existing revenues and re-prioritize their spending. Taxes cannot be allowed to increase to pay for yet another government program, no matter how well-intentioned it might be. We simply can't afford it.

Your tax dollars will feed corporate for-profit health care systems

A statement from SALT (Seniors Action and Liaison Team)

It would seem that the debate rages over the Klein government's proposal to allow regional health authorities to contract-out certain surgical procedures to private for-profit investor-backed clinics, misinformation is the government's weapon of choice and public confusion is the only real winner...

For example, government statements allude to private-public partnerships, a concept that has been a failure in the U.S., the U.K., Australia and New Zealand, and how this proposed "new" system will be "publicly funded," but "Publicly-funded" is the same as "taxpayer-funded."

If you examine this concept, the fact emerged that these corporate for-profit clinics will have to dig into taxpayers' pockets so that they can realize a profit.

How, you ask?

Point 1: Government is financed primarily - although not exclusively - by tax dollars. Revenue is also derived from the public health care insurance premiums.

Point 2: Regional health authorities are funded by the government, thereby through taxpayers' dollars.

Point 3: There is a finite number of dollars available.

Point 4: As regional health authorities contract for certain surgery procedures, the cost of facility fees will be included in the cost of those contracts as Health and Wellness Minister Halvar Jonson recently admitted during an interview on local radio stations (CHED and QR 77, Edmonton and Calgary).

Point 5: Therefore, taxpayer's dollars will have to go to private corporate for-profit investor-backed clinics as a subsidy to assure a profit.

Point 6: As more taxpayers' dollars feed the private for-profit clinics, fewer dollars will be available to support the public health care system and it will continue to deteriorate until it reaches an unacceptable level and health care can then be totally privatized with the necessity for everyone to try to purchase private health insurance which is not only highly restrictive, but is at least 10 times more expensive than the current public health insurance plan.

This is what the government hides from the public when it talks about the contracting-out proposal and dangles the phrases "publicly-administered, publicly funded" as carrots in front of a still naive public.

Because the facility fees which the government has ordered regional health authorities to pay to private clinics are to be included in the contract with private clinics, there is no possibility that this new scheme will save the government money or conserve taxpayers' dollars. Quite the opposite will be true.

The scheme will cost more!

Let's peer briefly into the future. The 'reason' given for the government's move is the number of people on waiting lists particularly for orthopedic procedures such as hip and knee replacements. Why doesn't the government open some of the operating rooms still dark and unused since the early days of the 'restructuring,' and put some of the dollars that will go to the corporate clinics into the existing but unused facilities already in the public system? Current waiting lists are growing for cancer and cardiac patients. Can corporate profit-oriented private clinics for those patients be far off? Of course not. Just imagine the world-class Cross Cancer Institute privatized - the average Albertan couldn't afford to step inside let alone be treated.

I do not want my tax dollars or even one penny of my health insurance premiums to go to private, investor-owned, corporate for-profit clinics as long as they feed from the public trough. If they want to be independent entrepreneurs, they are free to opt out of Medicare. They are not welcome to drain my pockets for their own profit.

Pick up your phone, dial 310-0000, toll free number for all MLA's constituency offices, ask for Ralph Klein's Calgary office and voice your opposition to his scheme to use your tax dollars.

Tired of being a victim without rights?

Dear Editor,

My friend once told me that you can only eat an elephant one bite at a time. The elephant is a justice system gone awry.

I see, I hear, I read about victim's stories everyday. Whether it's neighborhoods and businesses suffering the effects of the prostitution problem, drunk drivers wiping out innocent lives, drunks ending relationships with bullets, home invasions, theft of property, the list is endless and it seems no one person will be left untouched.

We are all witness to the rights of criminals being exercised. The time has come to advocate for the rights of victims and society at large.

I am told change has to come at the federal level.

No one is sure how to initiate these changes or even where to start.

Well let's start somewhere. Let's start with me.

I want you to write to me and tell me your stories, your feelings, your opinions. You do not have to be a victim to express yourself on this matter. I do not want faxes or e-mails. I want bulk. I want actual written letters and I want ONE MILLION of them. You can send a copy of my letter to every area in Canada, to every town and city in every province to spread the word. I want ONE MILLION letters piling up in my basement.

Include two pennies with your letter. This money will go for myself and one other person to fly to Ottawa to deliver these letters. It will also help cover the shipment fees.

I am not doing this for personal financial gain, so any money left over will go to charity.

Tired of being a victim without rights? Tired of a justice system in bad need of effective changes?

Give me your two cents worth and we will consume the elephant starting with the very first bite.

Write to: Jackie Muise, 3128 S. Blackburn Rd., Prince George, B.C. V2N 6C1

Sincerely,

Jackie Muise,

Canada's rural culture at risk, says Canadian Heritage critic

Dear Editor,

As the Chief Opposition Critic for Canadian Heritage and a promoter of Canadian Culture, I believe that Canada's rural culture is at risk. Let's take a look at why I believe this to be true. Let me begin by saying that farmers have been leaving the land since the Depression. With the advent of the 60's farms have become larger and larger. No longer could a farmer make a living on a quarter section of land.

Today's farms stretch for miles and miles. And yet cereal and oil grain are going broke because of continuous low commodity prices and unfair international trade subsidies exercised by the Americans and Europeans. Even the marketing boards of Eastern Canada are under attack by the W.T.O.

Canadian farmers are the most advanced in the world. Across this country they have been the most efficient and productive. Their woe is not due to inefficiency. Their woe is due to this government not standing up for Canadian farmers on the international stage. We are such wimps. This government thinks that sacrificing a few farmers is no big deal. They do not understand the total impact on the rural culture of this country when they take people off the land. When farmers families leave the farm, they end up in large urban centres looking for work. The rural communities will slowly disappear because they cannot sustain their economy without the family farm. When the population base is eroded, there is no reason to sustain small town Canada.

The rural way of life outside of the big cities will become a thing of the past. Huge international corporate farms in the future will dictate what you pay for food.

The current government policy will no doubt help drive family farms off the land. The rural culture of this country is at risk. Does this government care? Most of the seats in the House of Commons are urban. I believe that this government in the short term must do all it can to help farmers in need to get over this rough period so that the family will be sustainable and not disappear from the cultural landscape of this great country. The rural economy is at risk. Rural Canada needs time to recreate the rural industry so that what is produced will also be processed and packaged for the marketplace. Canada works because Canadians lend a helping hand to each other in times of need. Will this Liberal government do the same for the farmers of Canada, especially those in Manitoba and Saskatchewan who are currently experiencing a farming disaster because of years of low commodity process, excess moisture, and unfair international subsidies.

Yours truly,

Inky Mark, M.P.

Anniversary of destruction

Dear Editor,

February 20, 2000 marked the 41 anniversary of the destruction of the magnificent fighter airplane, the Avro Arrow of Canada. It is of importance that our children should know that our country was at one time at the cutting edge of technology and we were not always hewers of wood and drawers of water who shipped our resources away at giveaway prices.

The Arrow, of which five were completed with Pratt and Whitney J-75 engines readily attained speeds of 1400 MPH plus. In the fifty year annual of the Royal Canadian Air Force the speed was listed at 1600 MPH, a speed which in 1958 was unheard of for a fighter airplane. The United States at this time cancelled their F-106 and F-107 fighter projects because of course they were obsolete beyond comprehension as compared to the Arrow. The Americans it must be said cooperated with Canadians during the project.

A sixth Arrow was 95% completed but this model contained the Irriquois engine which was made by a Canadian firm, the Orenda Company of Malton, Ontario. This engine was the first titanium airplane engine ever in production and as well as being 700 pounds lighter than the P&W engines, produced drastic amounts more of thrust. It was speculated at this time that new models of the Arrow would go to speeds of Mach 3 or even 4, but Arrow No. 106 was destroyed before it was allowed in the air.

Although the United States had experimented with "fly by wire" technology the Arrow was the only airplane and the first to be able to take off, fly around and land with the pilot doing nothing by guiding while on the ground. Most passenger planes are now equipped with fly by wire systems now to be able to land in fog. I believe no other airplane had this instrumentation until 1971.

The Arrow although a fighter was capable of carrying approximately the same load as a B-29 bomber of second world war era. The rocket systems were held in the interior of the plane and rotated out when preparation for firing took place, thus giving the airplane a very clean appearance. Everything about the Arrow was years ahead of others in the world. England offered to buy some of the Arrows by the Conservative Government of John Diefenbaker of Saskatchewan refused to sell. On the 20 of Feb. 1959 all production and contracts were cancelled. Destruction of all airplanes on the assembly lines, (about 30) and all completed airplanes and plans were destroyed.

South West Didsbury news

I would like to make a sincere apology to Enith Hunsperger as it said in my column that she was 96 on her birthday (Jan. 24) and she celebrated her 90th. Sorry Enith.

Sympathy of the area is expressed to Noreen Olsen, as her brother in law Jack Howden of Calgary passed away Feb. 14 at the young age of 57 years.

Ora Findley (Bea Weidners niece) and Lucy Newsome hosted the Feb. Coffee Party at Westcott Hall with twenty-one ladies and ten children present.

All enjoyed a lovely lunch and tables decorated in the Valentine motif.

Dorothy Hosegood (long-time W.I. member was a guest of honour at the Feb. 8 meeting of the Westcott W.I. and she celebrated her 96th Birthday as of Feb. 14th on Valentine's Day.

Also to Ruby Kimmel (formerly of S.W. area) of the Didsbury Nursing Home who celebrated her 94th birthday on Feb. 14, 2000.

Hostess for the March Coffee Party at Westcott will be Ethel Baudistel & Mrs. Visser, and will be held March 8 at Westcott Hall. All ladies of the area are cordially invited to attend.

We finally received a nice lot of snow, almost a foot, and there hasn't been any wind to blow it into piles. I remember on year 1936-7 at West Carstairs and Didsbury too, it would snow about 6 inches, then the wind would blow it all on the roads (a lot of brush lined the dirt roads in those yrs).

Then it would thaw, we would get another 6 inches of snow, and the wind would blow, this was repeated about 4 times, until there was 8-9 ft piles of snow on the road.

Finally they took down the fences and went across country to town. In the spring when the real thaw came, the roads were a guagmire.

What a mess.

Westglen's annual magazine subscription campaign has been completed. This is the school's major fund raiser of the year so, if you have not been contacted by a student and are interested in arranging new subscriptions or renewals, please contact Mrs. Hansen or Mrs. Isrealson at 335-8700.

On Jan. 27 the girls' B basketball team and the boys' A team played in Cremona. The boys beat the Cremona Cougars by the girls lost 22-8. On Feb. 3 Boys' and Girls' B teams played in Sundre. The girls lost 34-18 and the boys also lost 35-22. Both teams played hard and improved their game. They will be ready for next time!

Jan. 28 was Western day at Westglen with Western dress, pop and doughnuts. Also in WOW committee news the video dance was on Feb. 18 and everyone had a great time. Another WOW activity is the ski trip to fortress Mountain on Saturday, Mar. 5. Sign up for the trip began Feb. 17 and will go until the 29 of Feb. Any parents wanting to go please phone Mrs. Isrealson at Westglen.

At the end of the first semester we were treated to performances by Mrs. Visser's Theatre Arts 7 and 8 classes. The productions were well done and the costumes were outstanding. Congratulations to the actors and the support crews.

Grade 8 band students returned from band camp and reported having fun and learning something, too. While they were at camp the students who remained at school had a variety of activities.

On Thursday lawyer, Mr. Vernon Good spoke and answered questions concerning law as a career and the law as it related to young people. Students then practised cartooning under the guidance of Mr. David Epp, artist and former teacher at Westglen. Community Constable Mr. Greg Hnatiuk then spoke about the fire safety, the local fire department and his job in the community.

In the afternoon students skated and then played in the pool. Grade 7 Band students have just returned for Band Camp at Camp Caroline as well. Those who stayed behind were involved in interesting activities as well.

We would like to thank Didsbury Review Editor Nicole Smith for speaking to us and answering all our questions about a small town newspaper.

In the past few weeks Westglen has been giving a chance to partake of some interesting activities. The Library is hosting a Mr. Christie Book Award Read to Succeed Program. It is running from Feb. 1-29. All students have received a reading log to record all the books they have read this month. Please encourage your children to read. This program qualifies the library to win money for new books. The recent book fair earned the school $202 and a $200 certificate. All this money is put right back into the library. The library is also putting money towards an author visit from Eric Wilson. It is planned for May 10 for Grade 6s, 7s and some 8s. Mr. Thompson and Mrs. Isrealson are in the early stages of planning an educational trip to Orlando, Florida. It is tentatively planned to take place next year during Easter break, in 2001.

The trip will be open to this year's grade 6s, and 7s. Some of the fun filled educational sights they will see are: Animal Kingdom Epcot Center, Sea World, Kennedy Space Center, and no trip to Florida would be complete without going to Disney World! Any students who are interested will be receiving an informational package soon.

There will be no school on Feb. 24 and 25 as teachers go to Calgary to their annual convention.

Report cards will be out Mar. 3 and interviews will be the following week. Bye till next time.

Common Ground - We're Back!

By Audra Hoover, Community Resource Coordinator, Hearthstone Child and Family Services

The year 2000 is well under way and to celebrate we are re-establishing Common Ground. Many readers will remember Common Ground from its regular appearance in local papers from 1996 to spring of 1998. Many things have changed over the past year and a half, but one constant continues to be the commitment of regional agencies to offer children and families their support and services.

Common Ground is a partnership between five regional agencies. Common Ground is a partnership between five regional agencies.

Each agency will take a town writing an article about their services and ways to support children and families in the local communities.

The following are the mandates and mission statements of these regional agencies:

Each child is valued - growing in a safe, loving and nurturing environment.

-- Hearthstone Child and Family Services

Empower the community to address their youth issues by creating initiatives to reduce youth recidivism and to prevent youth offending.

-- Youth Justice Resource Program

Individuals have the right to live without physical, sexual and emotional abuse or the threat of any of these.

-- Wheatland Communities Crisis Shelter

We help people deal with situations that threaten their survival and safety, their security and well-being, their human dignity in Canada and around the World.

-- The Canadian Red Cross

To support community development and, through leadership, protection and partnership, help all Albertans participate fully in the social, cul- tural and economic life of the Province.

-- Alberta Community Development

While these mandates and visions are all different, they all share a common theme, which is why we've named this column Common Ground. Each agency works to have services and supports available to children and families in need.

By focusing on this common theme and working together, each agency's commitment to children and families is strengthened.

Our goal is to use Common Ground to help empower our readers and make them aware of the many services and supports offered to them in Region 5.

As well, we hope that our columns will interest readers and in some cases challenge their beliefs. We want to use this column to generate conversation about children and families in Region 5.

We want our readers to question us and ask if we are doing everything possible to meet the needs of children and families in our area.

Creating a Common Ground with our readers will be a powerful partnership in itself.

Easter Seals believes in the strength of possibilities

March 3 is the official beginning of the 2000 Easter Seal Campaign throughout Alberta and you will soon be receiving your newly designed Easter Seals in the mail.

As one of the 23 Service Clubs in Alberta who help host the campaign, Didsbury Lions Club is pleased to support these fundraising activities and invite you to help them reach their target of $2,800 toward the provincial goal of $325,000. This will be the 50th year Easter Seals are distributed to households in Alberta.

Campaign proceeds are used to provide equipment such as track lifts, ramps, home adaptations, mobility devices, computers and environmental controls for individuals with physical disabilities.

This equipment greatly enhances a person's independence and opens the doors to education, recreation and future employment opportunities.

Last year nearly 1,000 Albertans of all ages from children to adults were provided assistance at a cost of nearly $516,000.

At the end of 1999 outstanding client requests were nearly $413,000 and the request keep coming.

When the new 2000 Easter Seals arrive in your mailbox we urge you to respond as soon as possible by sending in your donation to the Alberta Easter Seals Fund.

Focus on the Family

James C. Dobson, PH. D., is founder and president of Focus on the Family, a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of the home. Dr. Dobson is married, the father of two grown children, and resides in Colorado. For 14 years he was an associate clinical professor of pediatrics and the university of Southern California School of Medicine, and served for 17 years on the attending staff of the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles. He has also been heavily involved in governmental activities relating to the preservation of the family.

QUESTION: I'm 21 years old and still haven't figured out what I want to do with my life. How can I find an achievable goal and begin moving toward it?

DR. DOBSON: Selecting an occupation and training for it can be a very difficult assignment. It's tough to predict what you'll want to be doing when you're 50 or 60 years old, yet you're obligated to guess. You may not even know what the work will be like, yet you enroll yourself in a lengthy academic program or otherwise seek ways to train for it.

The decisions you make under these circumstances may lock you into something you will later hate. And there are social pressures that influence your choices. For example, how many young women secretly want to be wives and mothers but are afraid to admit it in today's "liberated" society? Furthermore, how can a girl plan to do something that requires the participation of another person -- a husband -- who will love and commit himself to her for the rest of his life? Marriage may or may not be in the picture for her. Yes, there is plenty to consider for men and women at your age in life.

I was very fortunate to have stumbled into a profession when I was young that I have been able to do reasonably well. If I had been born in ancient times and had been required to earn a living with my hands, perhaps in carpentry or stonemasonry, I would have probably starved to death. Craftsmanship is just not in my nature. I spent an entire semester trying to make a box in which to store shoeshine stuff. What a waste! At least that experience helped me rule out a few occupational possibilities.

To make an informed decision about a profession, you'll need to fit six essential components together:

1. It must be something you genuinely like to do. This choice requires you to identify your own strengths, weaknesses and interests.
2. It must be something you have the ability to do. You might want to be an attorney but lack the talent to do the academic work and pass the bar examination.
3. It must be something you can earn a living by doing. You might want to be an artist, but if people don't buy your paintings, you could starve while sitting at your easel.
4. It must be something you are permitted to do. You might make a wonderful physician and could handle the training but can't gain entrance to medical school. I went through a Ph.D. program in graduate school with a fellow student who washed out after seven years of classwork. He made it to the last big exam before his professors told him, "You're out."
5. It must be something that brings cultural affirmation. In other words, most people need to feel some measure of respect from their contemporaries for what they do. This is the one reason women have found it difficult to stay home and raise their children.
6. Most important for those with a faith, it must be something that you feel you should be doing with your life. Some refer to this as a "calling," or a sense of meaning that work should provide.

What makes it so tough to choose an occupation is that all six of these requirements must be met at the same time. If you get five of them down but you don't like what you have selected, you're in trouble. If you can get five together but are rejected by the required professional schools, you are blocked. If you can get five lined up but you can't earn a living at the job of your choice, the system fails.

Given this challenge, it isn't surprising that so many young people like yourself struggle in their early 20s. They become immobilized for years, not knowing what to do next.

Young adults in this situation remind me of rockets sitting on their launch pads. Their engines are roaring and belching smoke and fire, but nothing moves. The spacecraft was made to blast its way through the stratosphere, but there it sits as if bolted to the pad. I've met many men and women in their early 20s whose rockets just would not lift them off the ground. And yes, I've known a few whose engines blew up and scattered the debris of broken dreams all over the launch pad.

Bancroft Women's Institute

The February meeting of the Bancroft Women's Institute was held in Didsbury at the home of Jean Swanson, with 11 members and 2 guests present. Members exchanged Valentine's and gave a health hint for Roll Call. The Hostess chose 'I Love You Truly' for the opening song.

The final community card party in the series of four, will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Midway School February 25. Grand prizes will be awarded courtesy of Custom Woollen Mills. Bancroft will make a donation to the school for the use of it for these card parties.

The Wild Rose Constituency Conference will be held April 26 at the Church of God in Carstairs. The business meeting and awards will take place in the morning. At 2 p.m. there will be a special speaker - Brian Keating of the Calgary Zoo. This interesting and dynamic speaker will be of interest to the whole community.

It will be open to the public and a collection will be taken at the door.

Bancroft and Lone Pine W.I.'s will be manning the lunch booths at the Loewen and Van tetering farm sales April 12 and 13, respectively.

District 5 workshop will be held Saturday March 4, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Olds.

Bancroft delegates will be Lila Kurtz and Pat Van tetering.

Debbie Swanson demonstrated decorative styrofoam eggs. Members completed beautiful eggs covered with Easter of Christmas colored ribbons. A great addition to the Christmas tree or to the Easter basket.

Lunch, topped off with decorated Valentine cookies, was provided by Susan Page and Debbie Swanson.

Lila Kurtz had the lucky tea cup and received the hostess' gift.

Next meeting will be in Didsbury at the home of Catherine McNaughtan, 1:30 p.m. March 13. Visitors welcome!

Are your kids getting enough calcium in their diets?

It may look like your children are growing well, but unfortunately this doesn't mean that their bones are as strong and healthy as they should be. "A lack of calcium causes bones to become porous, weak and break more easily" says Leslie DePodesta a Registered Dietitian.

"Children need from 2 to 4 servings of milk products each day, depending on their age, size, activity level, how fast they are growing and whether they are male or female" she explains. As a guideline DePodesta says kids 4 to 9 years old need roughly 2-3 servings and 10 to 16 year olds need 3 to 4 servings. She offers these bone building tips:

- Skim milk powder can greatly boost calcium intake when you add to foods you prepare. Mix it into ground beef when making meatloaf, hamburgers or meatballs; add it to a shake made with milk or yogurt, combine it with hot cereal before cooking or add it to cream soups.

- Include a milk product in your child's school lunch. The new "Yoplait Tubes" make a perfect choice since they are easy to open don't require a spoon and can be frozen to last longer in the lunch box. They can even be eaten on the school playground.

- Don't feel guilty about chocolate milk. It has all the nutritional value of regular milk and no more sugar than a glass of unsweetened orange juice. The chocolate does bind with a few milligrams of the calcium, but since a cup of milk has about 300 milligrams of calcium, there is no concern.

- Try a calcium-enriched milk. Little children have small appetites so with a calcium-enriched milk they are getting more calcium per mouthful. Kids may also prefer the more full-bodied taste of calcium-enriched milk.

- For a quick before school breakfast, combine a ripe banana some orange juice and yogurt in the blender. Serve with whole wheat crackers for a balanced breakfast.

- Change the shape of the cheese you serve to make it more interesting. Serve it finely grated or cut it into matchstick pieces. Let children sprinkle grated cheese on their cooked vegetables at mealtime.

a brief glimpse of people and events in our community

Atom B's proud to host Provincial Tourney

There will be 140 extra hockey players and their families in Didsbury the week-end of March 17 thanks to some hard work on behalf of the players on the Didsbury's Atom A Rock & Roll Hockey Team. After placing enough wins to qualify for their zone, the fiesty 10 and 11-year-olds on the team were rewarded with the rights to host the upcoming Atom B Hockey Tournament.

Organizer Bruce Kemmere says it's been a long haul for the team, but their hard work has certainly paid off.

"They won 13 games in a row in the first part of the season and later won a tournament in Olds this January. They deserve to be the host team for this tournament....they've earned it."

But the pay-off for their hard work extends even farther than just the ice surface. Businesses throughout town stand to benefit from the increased traffic flow.

With this in mind, the Minor Hockey Association is making available advertising space in the game program to build exposure and heighten community awareness.

"It's a great opportunity for us to showcase our town," he adds. Kemmere, whose son Joey plays on a team, says the crowds won't be disappointed at the action in the rink either.

"It's always up-tempo hockey these kids play. They've been playing really, really well."

New programmer to Banish Boredom

There will nary be a dull moment to be had any more with the wealth of experience and ideas Michael Johnson has in store for Didsburians this year.

Johnson was recently hired as the Town's Programmer for Recreation and Facility Services. What's on the menu for excitement?

"Maybe a snowboarding clinic this winter...or summer camps for the entire family - there's a lot of potential out there for new activities to take place. My biggest goal right now would be to increase the amount of recreation that people are interested in participating in and to serve the needs of the community."

Serving the community is nothing new for Johnson. For the past four years he has worked as Facilities Operator for the Memorial Complex. Before that he was a lifeguard for several years and has taken numerous courses and training sessions on how to administer programs in recreational facilities such as that in Didsbury. His newest position will add the Swimming pool and Multipurpose Room.

"I will be meeting quite a bit with groups that are involved with recreation - like the Figure Skating Club, Swim Club and Minor Hockey Leagues."

If you have an idea for a recreational program you would like to see in town, call Michael Johnson at 335-7366. Who knows...the next great idea could be your own!

Playground Face-lift in the works!

Kids are sure to flock to the Southridge this summer. Thanks to the initiative taken by the Didsbury Youth Club, plans to have the playground on that end of town completely refurbished are now well underway.

"We are getting really close now to securing the funds we need to do the job," says Youth Club Secretary Gail Wilson. "...all we need is about $1000 more which shouldn't be too hard. Alberta lotteries has kicked in some funding, which still really helps and several local businesses have come forward with donations like trees, concrete, lumber and gravel. Everyone has been so generous. We are really grateful!"

Once all the pieces are in place, the next step will be to start work at the site.

"The playground is in pretty rough shape right now...there's only a broken tire swing there and an old dinosaur. What's more, it's no longer safe."

But restoring the site into a fun, safe environment will take a lot of help.

"We've had some volunteers come forth and offer to do the manual labor at the site once we're at that stage. We could always use more, though."

Anyone wishing to volunteer manpower or time to the Playground Project is encouraged to give the Youth Club a call at 335-4697.

Music through the Millennium hits the ice

The Didsbury Figure Skating Club is inviting everyone to come take a walk - or should that be stride - through the Millennium on Sunday, March 5 in the Memorial Complex Arena at 1:30 pm.

"We hope to have all 75 of our skaters out for the show," says Club President, Sharon Deitrich. Featured as the Club's Guest Skater this year will be 16-year-old Daniel Heffner from the Cal-Alta Skating Club in Calgary.

Adding to the fanfare and excitement of course, will be performances by each of the Club's members - decked out in decade-appropriate attire. Put spotlights and music aside, Deitrich sees an even greater motivator to come out and see the show.

"I think it's a really wonderful opportunity for parents to come out and see all the work their child has put into their technique throughout the season."

Tickets to the event are $4.00 for Adult, $2.00 for Students and Seniors. Children 5 and under will be free. If you can't wait until the 5th to catch the Club action, here's another chance to take in competition-level skating in Didsbury.

February 24 and 25 have been reserved as "test days" for 80 skaters from across the province and into B.C. Better still, admission is free!

Advertising paying off well for local realtor

By Nicole Smith

Advertising locally has become a very rewarding experience for one Didsbury realtor.

Allen Reed, a local Re/Max agent, has recently won a prestigious advertising award for all of western Canada.

Reed won the Best Print Advertising in a Newspaper award from Re/Max for ads that he runs in the Didsbury Review each week.

Reed was presented his award at the Re/Max Western Canada Conference, held in Calgary on Feb. 12.

He says that winning was a great experience for him, as he was competing against many realtors from large centres across western Canada.

"It was really nice to win because most of the winners in the other categories were from bigger centres," Reed said.

Reed displayed seven of his ads that ran in the paper in the last year, and says that the judges were very pleased with his presentation.

He says that his former broker-owner encouraged him to enter the competition and Reed is very happy that he did.

Reed also says that his advertising is paying off on a local level.

"I think it's now starting to pay off," he said.

"There seems to be an expectation of people to see the ads in the paper."

He says that although he comes up with the majority of the ideas for his ads, he does have people come up to him suggestions as well.

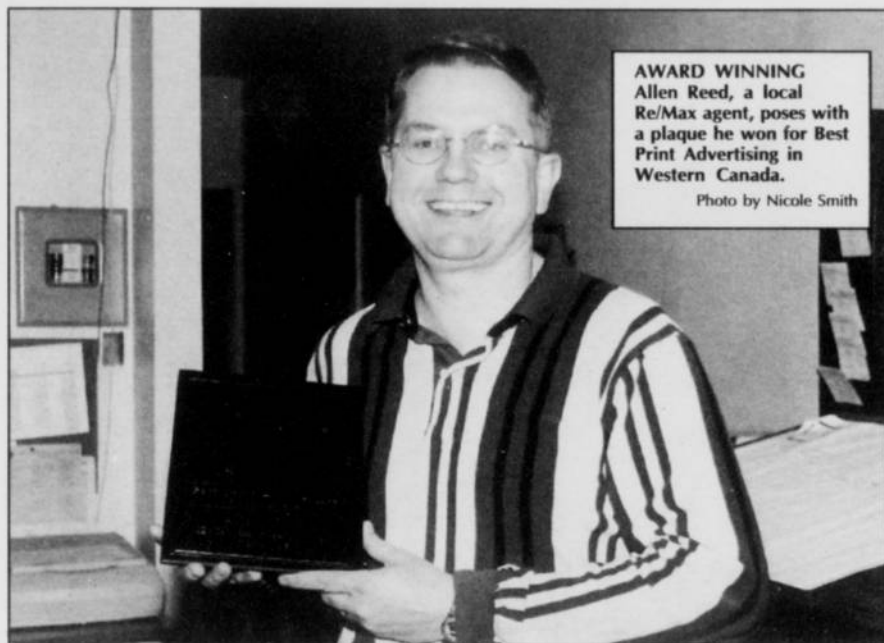

Reed says that the ads are effective in promoting himself as a local realtor.

"If you're going to use the paper, you've got to make it effective," he said.

Reed has been running his series of ads in the Review for the last year and plans to continue with them in the future.

"I hope to continue with it," he said.

"People seem to really like the ads."

Premier Klein to carry grain farmers' message to Prime Minister Jean Chretien

Premier Ralph Klein has sent a letter to the Prime Minister adding to his support to farmers and producer groups, calling on the federal government to take the necessary action to improve Canada's grain handling and transportation systems.

The letter follows a meeting on January 26, 2000 between Premier Klein and a number of Alberta farm groups and organizations, representing approximately 90,000 prairie farmers.

The industry presented the Premier with their position on the Estey/Kroeger reports and other recommendations to improve farm income.

Agriculture, Food and Rural Development Minister Ty Lund and Infrastructure Minister Ed Stelmach were also in attendance.

Premier Klein acknowledged that many of the current problems facing agriculture may be beyond the immediate control of Canada and the provinces.

"However, Canada needs to restructure those systems that are inefficient and wasteful," Klein stated.

"These impediments to more efficient grain handling and transposition are extremely costly to farmers. Implementing the Kroeger package of reforms will save western farmers hundreds of millions of dollars annually."

"These changes are possible within Canada's own back yard."

They would promote a more commercial system, improve competition, enhance choice for farmers and thereby increase farmer returns.

By not allowing these changes to take place, the federal government only worsens the current difficulties our producers are experiencing," said Lund.

Klein's open letter to the Prime Minister of Canada supports the Estey/Kroeger approach to grain handling and transportation.

Kroeger, appointed by the federal government to work out the implementation details of the Estey Report, has made recommendations that will provide for a more commercial contract-based focus to the grain transportation system and allow the marketplace to work more efficiently.

Changes to the heavily-regulated transportation system would position the agriculture industry to better compete in the rapidly expanding global value-added marketplace.

Farmers will be able to take advantage of these opportunities and cost efficiencies if the necessary changes are made.

"The global economy will not wait for Canada," Stelmach added.

"Reforms to the grain transportation system will benefit the western Canadian economy; particularly our farm economy."

Klein agreed to discuss this issue on behalf of Alberta producers at the upcoming Premiers' Conference in Quebec City.

A copy of the letter can be viewed by visiting the Government of Alberta's website at <<http://www.gov.ab.ca/acn/200001/8586.html>>.

1999-2000 adjustment payments for grain

On Feb. 17 the CWB announced that the Government of Canada has approved increases to the 1999-2000 initial payments for wheat and durum wheat.

Effective Feb. 22, 2000 initial payments for wheat will increase $10 per tonne. Initial payments for all grades of durum wheat will increase $15 per tonne, with the exception of No. 5 Canada Western Amber Durum (CWAD) which will increase $10 per tonne.

Farmers who delivered wheat and durum to the CWB between Aug. 1, 1999 and Feb. 22, 2000 will receive an adjustment payment. The payments will be mailed on Friday, Mar. 3 or received by direct deposit on Feb. 29. Farmers with direct deposit wishing to defer their payments must notify the CWB by Feb. 23, 2000.

Initial payments are guaranteed by the federal government and are paid to farmers when they deliver grain. The CWB recommends increases to the initial payments as market conditions warrant or as each pool account becomes more firm. This is the second adjustment to wheat and durum initial payments in the 1999-2000 crop year.

Farmers receive the balance of their returns in either additional adjustment payments before the close of the crop year (July 31, 2000) or in interim or final payments after the close of the crop year, and after all expenses have been deducted. A complete listing of payments for all grades in dollars per tonne and dollars per bushel is posted on the CWB's Web site under Payments link at www.cwb.ca.

Initial payments should not be confused with monthly Pool Return Outlooks (PROs) which are the CWB's estimates of total pool year returns.

The CWB is the world's largest wheat and barley marketer. Headquartered in Winnipeg, Manitoba, it is one of Canada's biggest exporters and the largest net earner of foreign currency. Marketing Prairie-grown wheat and barley to over 70 countries around the world, the CWB returns all sales revenue, less the costs of marketing, to farmers in Western Canada.

Canadian Wheat Board Bulletin

At a glance

The CWB will again offer variety-specific delivery programs for AC Crystal, AC Vista, and AC Morse to farmers in the 2000-01 crop year. The programs are being offered to ensure adequate supplies to conduct market testing. A program for AC Navigator is also being offered in cooperation with Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, the variety owner. AC Crystal is a variety in the Canada Prairie Spring Red wheat class and is a quality milling wheat. AC Vista is a Canada Prairie Spring White wheat variety suited for noodles and bread. AC Morse and AC Navigator are durum wheat varieties suited for pasta production. The variety-specific program for Glenlea (Canada Western Extra Strong wheat) will be discontinued since production levels are more than adequate to meet demand. The program for AC Melita (Canada Western Amber Durum) will also be discontinued (and replaced by AC Morse) due to agronomic factors. For more information on the programs for 2000-01, see the CWB's Web site at www.cwb.ca.

From elevator to port

Rail car unloads for all grains for week 28 (week ending Feb. 13) were 3,055 at Vancouver (target: 3,100) and 1,343 at Prince Rupert (target 1,200). Rail car unloads at Thunder Bay totalled 18 cars (target: 100).

Primary elevator space (for weeks 287) was 20 per cent, compared to 19 per cent the week before. Manitoba elevators averaged 21 per cent space, Saskatchewan elevators averaged 20 per cent space and Alberta elevators averaged 19 per cent space.

Potpouri: Work has begun, in preparation for the Auditor General's official audit of the CWB. Staff from the Office of the Auditor General is currently reviewing the corporation's operations, activities and objectives in order to determine the scope of the audit.

Agri-news brief

Eliminating E. coli from beef cattle

A University of Alberta scientist is leading a team of researchers to develop a vaccine to eliminate E. coli O157:H7 from beef cattle herds. Dr. Glen Armstrong, Medical Microbiology and Immunology professor received $202,922 in funding from the Canada Alberta Beef Industry Development Fund (CABIDF) to conduct research that is intended to eliminate contamination of meat by E. coli O157:H7 before it enters the food chain. E. coli O157:H7 doesn't cause illness in cattle but can cause quite dramatic symptoms in humans, particularly the young and the elderly. Symptoms include severe diarrhea, and in worst cases, the disease can be fatal. Since it takes only 10 to 100 organisms to cause disease in humans, any trace of E. coli detected in a carcass means the meat must be discarded.

Mountain View Credit Union buys two new branches

The Mountain View Credit Union has purchased two rural Bank of Montreal branches. Norris Thompson, General Manager of the Mountain View Credit Union made the announcement today that the Credit Union has purchased the Morrin and Carbon branches of the Bank of Montreal.

The purchase, worth $21 million, is part of a $421 million package involving six Alberta credit unions and the Bank of Montreal, Credit Union Central Alberta coordinated the purchase.

The communities of Carbon and Morrin are located in a dominantly agricultural area of east Central Alberta.

"Two branches are a good market and a geographic fit with our current branches," said Thompson of the purchase.

"Agriculture lending is an important part of our business. Agriculture loans make up 25 percent of our portfolio with 18 percent of our business in the small and medium size business loan market."

Bank customers at the two locations will become members of the Mountain View Credit Union, joining the existing 10,000 members who share in the ownership and benefits of a member of the credit union system.

In the past ten years the Mountain View Credit Union has returned $2,487,992 to its members in the form of patronage payments and dividends. Member deposits are 100 percent guaranteed.

Customer accounts, deposits and loans at the two new branches will be converted to credit union member accounts and current employees at the two locations will be offered employment with the credit union.

The Mountain View Credit Union currently employs 50 staff members in its five branch locations and administration offices.

"The transition from Bank of Montreal of Mountain View Credit Union will take place at a time, the first transition will take place in April 2000," said Thompson.

"We will be offering full financial services at each of the new branches." The Mountain View Credit Union prides itself in offering its members personalized service with the convenience of Automated Teller Machines, Telephone banking, and Internet banking services.

An immediate benefit to new members of the two new credit union branches will be the placement of full time lending officers in Morrin and Carbon and longer more convenient business hours.

The branches will be open Monday to Thursday 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The Mountain View Credit Union has five other branches located in Olds, Didsbury,

Credit Union

Sundre, Cremona and Beiseker.

The acquisitions are part of a planned Mountain View Credit Union expansion. Thompson announced that the Olds branch built in 1992 will be increased by 1000 square feet in order to accommodate the growth of membership.

The assets of the Olds branch have increased by $24 million since 1992.

Mountain View Credit Union's total assets are $120 million.

The annual meeting of the Mountain View Credit Union is scheduled for Mar. 29 at the Didsbury Memorial Complex.

Agri-News Briefs: Eliminating E-coli from cattle

Range seminar proceedings available

The first Western Range Science Seminar, sponsored by Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada's Lethbridge Research Centre and Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development, was held January 23 to 25 in Lethbridge. Seminar presentations and proceedings of the sold out event have been made available to anyone unable to attend can order a copy. The seminar was designed to update range managers with the latest practical information and progress in range science. The proceedings include short interviews of each presentation, actual papers from the presentations, and scaled down copies of research posters presented at the conference. The proceedings include sections of the fundamentals of range management, including: Rangelands Their Functions, Our Needs and Actions; Range Livestock Production; Managing the Water Supply; and Rangelands: Home to Ranchers and Wildlife. The proceedings are available for $15 per copy. When ordering please send cheque or money order made payable to Western Range Science Seminar, along with your name, farm or ranch business name, return mailing address, phone, fax and email address to Brenda Chmielewski, public lands division, Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development, #100, 5401 - 1st Avenue S., Lethbridge, AB T1J 4V6. No phone or e-mail orders, please.

Eliminating E. coli from beef cattle

A University of Alberta scientist is leading a team of researchers to develop a vaccine to eliminate E. coli 0157:H7 from beef cattle herds. Dr. Glen Armstrong, Medical Microbiology and Immunology professor received $202,922 in funding from the Canada Alberta Beef Industry Development Fund (CABIDF) to conduct research that is intended to eliminate contamination of meat by E. coli 0157:H7 before it enters the food chain. E. coli 0157:H7 doesn't cause illness in cattle but can cause quite dramatic symptoms in humans, particularly the young and the elderly. Symptoms include severe diarrhea, and in worst cases, the disease can be fatal. Since it takes only 10 to 100 organisms to cause disease in humans, any trace of E. coli detected in a carcass means the meat must be discarded.

This project will focus on developing a vaccine that will prompt the production of antibodies by the animal. This is a three-year project that researchers expect will demonstrate a feasible and affordable approach for the beef industry to eliminate E. coli 0157:H7 in beef. The desired outcome is that all producers would use the vaccine, which would result in complete elimination of the organism from Canadian beef herds. Increased confidence in the food supply is one of the main incentives behind this research.

CABIDF is a $16.4 million fund, comprised of equal contributions of $8.2 million from the federal and provincial governments.

The fund is managed for Alberta beef producers by the Alberta Cattle Commission.

Neighbour boys scouted for "AAA" hockey team

Didsbury Minor Hockey boasts about two of their Atom "A" players being scouted and selected to the Southern Alberta Selects "AAA" Hockey Team of Calgary.

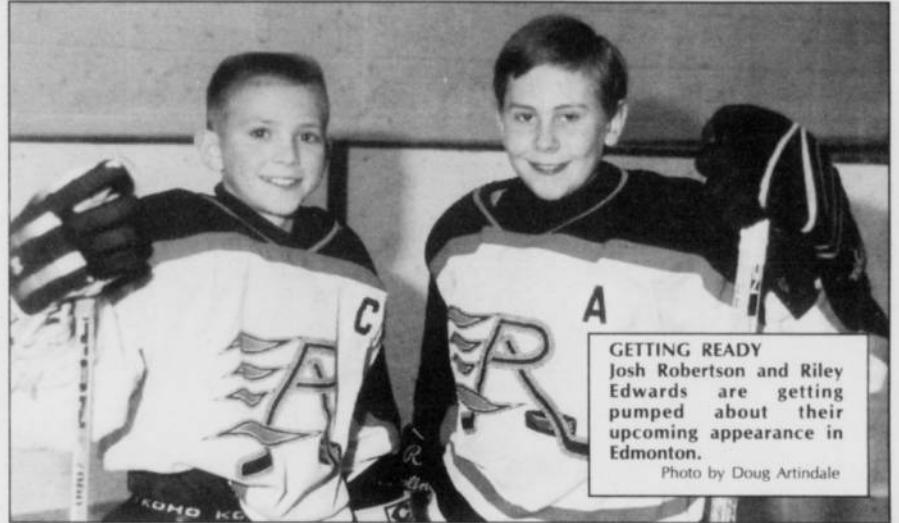

This team is a non-profit organization that is endorsed by the Alberta Sport Council to help promote and enhance the development of young hockey players in Alberta.

The program hires scouts and coach's to further the development of these young players beyond their regular hockey season. These players will be introduced to more advanced practice schemes and be given the opportunity to play against other Triple "A" teams from other cities in Canada and the United States. The boys will get to attend tournaments in Regina, Sask., Red Deer, and this year's Canadian Selects Tournament which will be held in Edmonton on the July 1 weekend, featuring teams from Western Canada and the U.S.

Our two young hockey stars are Josh Robertson and Riley Edwards, neighbor boys from the Westcott area. Riley and Josh have played their entire minor hockey in the Didsbury Minor Hockey Program. Both boys are 11 years old and their last year of Atom age hockey. These boys were picked out of all the Atom teams from Red Deer to the U.S. border, not including Calgary and Lethbridge.

Our Didsbury Minor Hockey Association is very proud of these two boys for being selected to this type of hockey program. It says a lot for our association. Over the last few years Didsbury Hockey teams have become very well respected in the leagues that they play in. Our teams successes are because of the pre-hockey program offered by the Didsbury Figure Skating Club to our 5&6 year olds, along with getting great quality coach's for our lower levels of hockey. Our Association has developed an exceptional group of players right through all the teams in every level of Boys and Girls.

Josh and Riley are very good examples of the types of players we have here in our town.

They are very skilled at skating, passing, shooting and are great team players as well.

We are proud to have these boys as our Ambassadors for our Association, as they get this great opportunity to go play for the Southern Alberta Selects "AAA" Hockey team this summer.

Good luck and have a lot of fun boys!

Pee Wee A Update

The new year has had the Pee Wee As playing a mixture of 4 league, 1 exhibition and 4 provincial games. Team stats since January 2 are 6 wins, 1 tie and 2 losses.

League play included a 10-4 win over Airdrie, with Aaron Herold playing one of his strongest games of the year with a 4 goal 2 assist performance. Chris Gole made some great plays, accounting for 1 goal and 3 assists.

Unfortunately the penalties added up and the third point for 12 minutes in penalties was not to be.

Drumheller is always a tough place to play and this one was no different. The action and goal scoring was back and forth, both teams working and hitting hard. Fans felt it was the best game so far in the season.

Jeff Clazie was hot today and was able to capitalize on his chances with 4 goals. Jackson Meston was the difference in this game with some rock hard hits and great defensive moves. End result was a 5-5 tie, and again the point for low penalty minutes slipped away!

The boys were feeling the effects of the tough Drumheller game the day before, and came up flat against Gleichen in an exhibition game, losing 8-4. With the points spread out between the players, it was Les Marston and Michael Whalen being the contributing factors digging pucks out of the corners. Good clean game for Didsbury with only 8 minutes in penalties.

The most painful loss of the year (8-6) was on January 23 in Strathmore, as the play-off hunt was intense as only 2 points separated 5 teams. The coaches were pleased with the discipline of the team, and with only 8 minutes in penalties, that extra point could prove to be the deciding factor for playoffs! Charles Weber and Will Harvie worked hard on defence and kept us in this one right to the end!

Provincial competition started January 26 against Carstairs. Didsbury came out flying and played strong, solid hockey for the full sixty minutes. Brett Fillmore and Ross Sunberg were instrumental in this game with some awesome passes.

It was the amazing Ben May with his hot glove hand who earned the shut out in net with a final score of 7-0 for Didsbury. Carstairs returned to Didsbury for the second game of the series, but the boys weren't about to back down.

Cody Edwards played a great game with a hat trick and an assist, taking the body on every shift and skating hard. Final score of this one was 10-3 for Didsbury.

An important league game on January 29 had Gleichen in town.

With play-offs still in reach, the boys skated hard. Some undisciplined penalties resulted in the loss of the extra point, but Didsbury walked away with a 4-1 win. The team was counting on Clazie, Edwards and Herold to score some goals, and between the three they accounted for 7 of the 10 points.

The second round of provincials started February 6 in Crossfield. The power play was hot and thanks to our working forwards, Didsbury won this one easily 7-2. Crossfield came out strong for game #2 of the series, but it was the rookies Robbie Leiper and Brad Edwards, joined by Nick Kurtz that made the difference in this one with 7 of the 9 points and a final score of 3-2 Didsbury. On to round three...

The Pee Wee As are enjoying success for many reasons. It has been the concentration of our goalie ....the strong and reliable defence ....the versatility of the players who can adjust to play forward or defence ....the hard shooters...the grinding wingers passing pucks from the corners ...and the heavy hitters.

Thanks to the coaching staff of Chris Bell, Don Edwards, Mark Kendze, and Gary Edwards, this talented group of players has learned how to win hockey by working together ...and as they say, "it doesn't get any better than that!"

Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League

Veteran centre Dana Lattery established an Olds Grizzlies' record for goals in a season and advanced into a tie for the Alberta Junior Hockey League scoring during the week ending Feb. 13.

Lattery led a number of productive league scorers with eight goals and three assists in four games. He had two goals Sunday in a 7-4 win over the Drayton Valley Thunder in Drayton Valley to break the team record of 56 goals set by Eric Fulton in 1991-92.

Lattery also had three-goal games Tuesday in a 6-5 loss to the Calgary Canucks in Calgary and Thursday in a 7-5 win over the Bow Valley Eagles in Canmore. He has advanced into 11th place on the league's career goal-scoring list with 133 goals in 198 games in four seasons, all with Olds.

Bow Valley veteran Ryan Epp had one goal and nine assists in three games, including one goal and six assists Saturday in a 8-6 win in Drayton Valley.

Olds veteran Colen Pappas had four goals and five assists in four games. Tim Krueckl of the Eagles had eight goals in three games, including a five-goal game in Drayton Valley.

Shane Mudryk and Garrett Larson of the Grand Prairie Storm and Jade Galbraith of Drayton Valley also had eight points each.

Mudryk had five goals and three assists in four games. Galbraith had two goals and six assists in three games. Larson matched Galbraith's totals in four games.

Hockey Coaching Tips

Statistics a useful tool

When used properly, statistics can be a helpful tool for coaches in preparing for games, correcting weaknesses and motivating your team.

Statistics provide you with feedback on individual and team play. Combined with your own analysis, they can help enhance overall team performance.

Have your team keep statistics in areas you consider important, such as:

- shots on goal and attempted shots, including location
- scoring chances
- player plus / minus
- giveaways by player in different zones
- penalty killing and power play percentages
- body checks (depending on age group)
- player faceoff wins and losses

The statistics must be accurate, consistent, have a purpose specific to your coaching needs, and be easy to use.

To ensure consistency, have the same people compile statistics at every game and set simple, clear definitions for each statistic kept.

By identifying individual and collective strengths and weaknesses, statistics can help you plan for practices and games, and can be used as a motivational tool by monitoring player progress.

Remember, statistics don't tell the entire story. Be cautious about handing out individual statistics to your players during the season, as this often causes conflict.

Develop skating agility

Skating agility is an especially valuable skill in today's faster game, and contributes to both offensive and defensive abilities.

Agility is the use of inside and outside skate edges, and the flexibility of muscles in developing balance, up-and-down movement and quick movements.

Power turns to both left and right, quick recovery from falls and smooth lateral movements need to be mastered by all players.

There are three types of forward turns: sharp power turns, crossover turns and the forward to backward pivot.

When teaching sharp power turns, you should stress that the skate on the inside of the turn is slightly ahead of the other, skates are shoulder width apart and the head and shoulders initiate the turn.

In crossover turns, the outside leg crosses over the inside leg, while the inside leg pushes under the outside leg. To practice power turns, have players skate both directions around cones, and use cones and circles to work on crossovers in both directions.

To perfect up and down movements and 180 and 360 degree pivots, have players skate lengthwise performing single and double knee drops, stomach drops, jumping, hopping, and pivots on whistles or at markers.

In moving laterally, players must keep skates perpendicular to the direction of movement while placing the outside skate in front of the opposite skate, rather than crossing legs.

To polish these skills, have players move laterally in both directions, progressing from one to five steps, and to a diagonal line.

Remember, agility is as important when you are skating backward as when you are going forward or sideways.

Learn emergency procedures

Would you know what to do if one of your players was seriously injured?

You and your coaching staff should take First Aid training.

This will give you knowledge and confidence to deal with emergencies competently and efficiently. Here are two crucial recommendations:

1. Always have a complete First Aid kit on hand to treat minor injuries. Perform frequent inventories to keep your kit fully stocked.

2. Develop an Emergency Action Plan for serious injuries.

Write your plan down, outlining each step, and keep it in the First Aid kit.

Three individuals are required to carry out your plan:

• Person in charge: the most qualified in emergency procedures who can tend to the injured player until medical assistance arrives.

• Call person: calls for medical assistance and guides ambulance in and out of facility.

• Control person: ensures proper room for medical personnel and discusses plan with officials and facility attendants.

Here are some more tips for emergency care:

• follow the ABC's - make sure the injured player's air way is clear and is breathing; that there is no major bleeding; and that the central nervous system, including head, neck and spine, appear to be undamaged.

• get to the injured player as quickly as possible.

• remain calm; do not rush your examination.

• NEVER move a player with a suspected neck or spinal injury.

Check with your hockey association to see if a Trainers Clinic is planned, or call your local Red Cross or St. John's Ambulance offices.

The winners of the Didsbury Funspiel, held Feb. 11, were: Terrel Wiebe, Justin Patten, Cody Atkinson and Nathan Brander.

Thirty-two kids turned out to participate in the funspiel.
